Corporate seated dinner, up to 300 guests

Thirty round tables of ten, in six rows of five, face the stage, which holds a podium and AV. Display tables (shown here for auction items) line the wall beside the restrooms. The bar is on the kitchen side of the room, and registration and coat racks are in the lobby at the entrance.

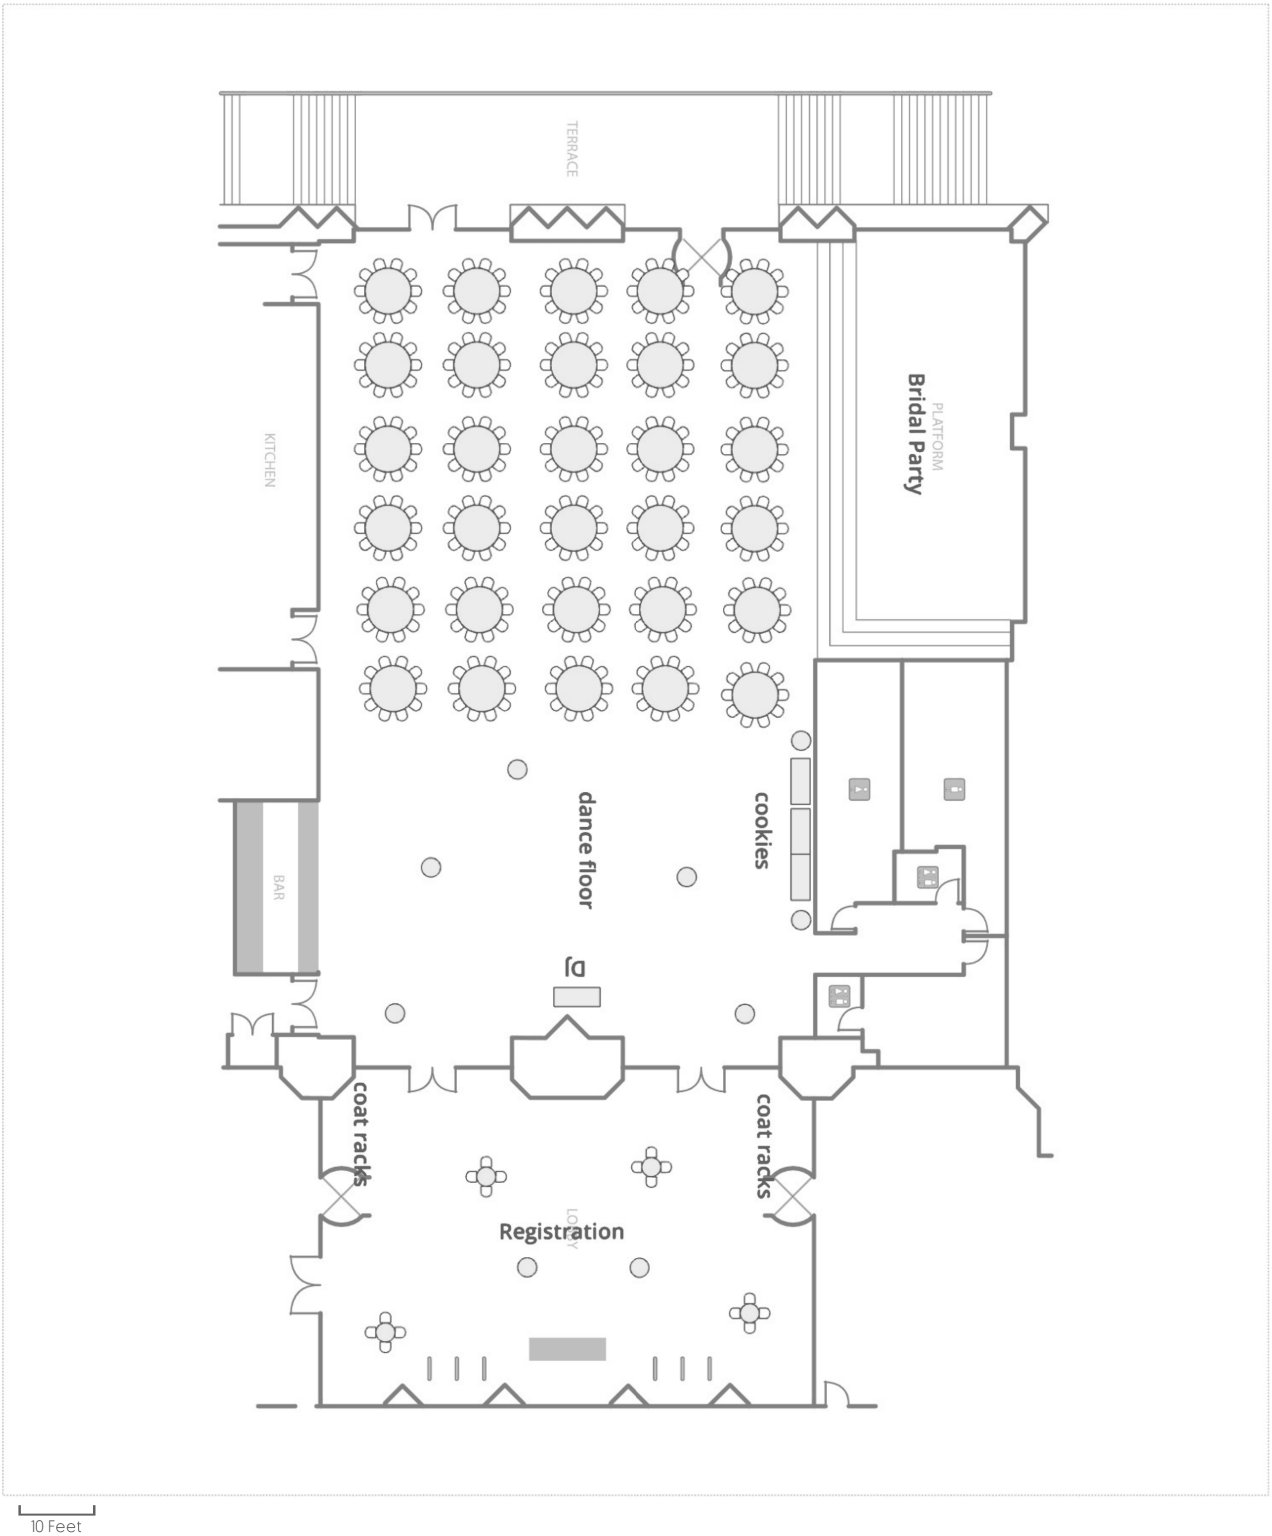

Cocktail reception with food stations

An open floor for mingling, with seven round tables of ten, five small tables for four and five standing cocktail tables. Three food stations stand along the walls, with dessert and appetizer stations in the middle of the room. Display tables line the wall beside the restrooms, the stage holds a podium and AV, and registration and coat racks are in the lobby at the entrance.

Wedding reception, up to 300 guests

Thirty round tables of ten, in six rows of five, with the bridal party seated on the stage. The dance floor is between the tables and the lobby entrance, with the DJ at its edge and a cookie table along the wall beside the restrooms. Registration and coat racks are in the lobby.

Wedding with a band, up to 230 guests

Twenty-three round tables of ten leave an open dance floor in front of the stage, where the band or DJ plays and the bridal party sits. A cookie table lines the wall beside the restrooms, a cards and gifts table stands near the entrance, and registration and coat racks are in the lobby.
